Gelstrup Is Named Police Magistrate; Brook Is Treasurer

Once more George B. Bartlett reigns as Village president or mayor in Antioch. Mr. Bartlett, who is assistant cashier of the State Bank, served as chief executive of Antioch from 1923 to 1927, and Tuesday he was elected for another two year term to succeed S. E. Pollock. Mr. Bartlett was elected over George W. Jensen by a count of 196 to 150. Mr. Bartlett headed the Independent ticket, while Dr. Jensen led the People's party.

For Village trustees H. P. Lowry of the Independent ticket received the greatest number of votes, 193. J. B. Drom of the People's party was second with 174 votes, and Charles Lux, also of the People's party, was third with 169 votes. R. A. Shultis and Frank Dunn who have served as trustees during the last term were defeated, receiving 165 and 132 votes respectively. Charles Richards received 165 ballots in his favor. Mr. Dunn and Mr. Shultis were on the People's ticket, and Mr. Richards was on the Independent ballot.

Harold A. Gelstrup, candidate for police magistrate, was victorious over his Independent opponent, A. G. Watson. The former received 177 votes, while Mr. Watson received 142. J. Ernest Brook had no opposition and received 236 votes for village treasurer. Frank R. Kling was given 103 votes and Edna M. Warriner was given 114 votes to become library directors and were elected without opposition.

The proposition to increase the village tax levy was defeated by a vote of 182 to 111. Sixty voters did not cast ballots on the proposition.

REV. KRAHL RESIGNS PASTORATE AT LOCAL METHODIST CHURCH

To Be Affiliated With Milk
Association After First Of Month.

To become associated with the Pure Milk association, the Rev. A. M. Krahl Monday night tendered his resignation as pastor of the Antioch Methodist Episcopal church. The resignation was given at a meeting of the official board of the church.

Mr. Krahl's new duties will make him directly responsible for publicity and for organization work of the Pure Milk association. He has taken an active interest in the milk question since the strike of 1923 and 1924, and during the recent controversy gave much of his time toward working for the interest of the farmer. Mr. Krahl has maintained that there has been a great social injustice to the farmer, and for that reason during the last winter spoke day and night in cities, villages and country communities and over the radio station WLS.

Mr. Krahl stated to the official board that he regrets leaving the active ministry, but he believes the farm situation is acute. He will go into the work, he stated, believing that the greatest need of the farmer today is for Christian leadership. This today is for Christian leadership. Mr. Krahl after several months of serious deliberation. The resignation from the local pastorate will be effective May 1.

Mr. Krahl's former affiliation with the advertising department of the Winchester Repeating Arms company and with the Winchester Rifle corps, along with his experience as a minister, make him qualified to aid in the direction of the 35,000 farmers who supply milk for the Chicago public.

Mr. Krahl has been in Antioch for three years, during which time the Methodist parsonage was built and the church underwent extensive remodeling and repairing. The congregation has increased and Epworth League and Boy Scout organizations have been promoted.

For the last two years Mr. Krahl

Homer Edwards Again Wins Honor for Local Agricultural Group

Most fitting was the surprise given to Homer Edwards, Junior in the Agricultural department of the Antioch Township High school, Friday evening at The Father and Son banquet, when he was awarded a beautiful gold medal for having won the 4-H Poultry club championship of the state of Illinois.

Homer is the same boy who two months ago won the Chicago Drovers' Journal award in the project story contest and who broadcasted from WLS at that time.

Homer has demonstrated to himself and others that when one does his work well, honor will come from all sources. His story has won him the Illinois championship as a story writer out of an entry of 144 boys. His work as a 4-H club member has won him the championship out of several thousand poultry club members in Illinois. WLS has recognized his work, and C. L. Kuttel, his instructor, claims that Homer may yet have a few more surprises coming before this season is over.

Homer has these two Illinois championships. Harold Kennedy, his classmate, holds the Illinois championship in grain judging.

Business Tax Is Repealed

Repealing of the Antioch business tax was the outstanding act of the Village board Tuesday night at a special meeting. Various difficulties regarding the business tax have arisen since the passage of the tax ordinance in 1926.

A resolution was passed Tuesday night to extend the water main on Lake street. The resolution was passed upon the recommendation of the Board of Local Improvements. The extension will cost approximately $2,255. Public hearings on the proposition will be held April 26 in the Village hall at 8 o'clock.

Harry Isancs, clerk, was instructed to inform the Joseph Mallory company, contractors who put in sewers in the northern part of Antioch, that ditches need filling.

The board will meet again April 26, at which time S. E. Pollock will act as president for the last time.

has been secretary of the Antioch Business club. Although not a member of the local chapters, he is a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows organizations, and has taken part in the affairs of the two Antioch groups as well as all civic affairs.

Mr. Krahl is married and has three children: Miss Catharine, a student in Illinois Wesleyan university; Leonard, a student in Antioch Township High school, and Bobby, at home. Mrs. Krahl, besides being active in church work, has organized and helped build up a Mothers' club for the community. The Krahls will move to the vicinity of Chicago.

Promoted Clean Amusements

W. O. Winch, 55, succumbed last week in Chicago. He was manager of the Channel Lake ballroom, one of the most popular amusement houses in the midwest. An editorial concerning Mr. Winch appears in this issue.

INTEREST IN SCHOOL ELECTION IS SLIGHT

Pollock Is Re-elected To Serve As President For Grade Board.

Interest in the school elections Saturday in Antioch was slight and virtually no opposition was met by any candidate.

Others re-elected to the grade school board are: Fred Hawkins, 37 votes, and Roy Murrie, 37 votes. Each was unopposed and will serve for a three-year term.

The proposition for increase of the tax levy for school district 34 carried 29 to 5. The proposition was that there be levied more than one percentum but not more than one and one-half percentum for educational purposes and more than three-eighths of one percentum but not more than one-half of one percentum for building purposes and the purchase of school grounds.

One hundred and six votes were cast for election of a member to the school board at the Antioch Township High school. Clarence Crowley, who was up for re-election, received 97 votes. The rest of the ballots were scattered.

Mr. White was awarded a gold medal by H. G. Gilkerson, county farm advisor, who represented the University of Illinois. The presentation was made at the Sixth Annual Father and Son banquet held under the auspices of The Future Farmers of America in the Antioch High school Friday night.

The White herd of Holstein cattle is the best herd in Lake county from the standpoint of production, averaging more than 10,000 pounds of milk per cow.

Mr. White is a member of the Lake County Herd Improvement association.

EARL WHITE HONORED AT FATHER AND SON DINNER GIVEN FRIDAY

Ninety Attend Banquet of Future Farmers; Kuttel
Toastmaster.

Ninety fathers and sons sat down to the sixth annual Father and Son banquet Friday at the Antioch High school. This banquet was under the auspices of the Antioch chapter of The Future Farmers of America and the members and their dads were present.

The dining room was decorated in the emerald green and white, colors of the local chapter. White sweet peas and other white flowers mixed with green foliage formed the table decorations. The decorating and the serving of the banquet was by the girls of the Home Economics department under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Richey.

Girls Complimented.
The speaker of the evening, Earl A. White, Director of the Committee on Electricity and its Relations to Agriculture and who has traveled much in the United States, stated that at the many banquets he has attended, he has never seen such splendid service on the part of the people who serve the banquets as he did at the Antioch High school.

The Future Farmers orchestra, composed of boys studying agriculture, was led by L. A. Peterson. The boys played several new selections. Morris Down, Gordon Martin, Lloyd Atwell, Fred Griffin, Russell McNeil, and George Dunford are members of the new orchestra.

Jasper McCormick, president of the chapter spoke of the work of the department and introduced the toastmaster, C. L. Kuttel. Lewis Gailger recited the creed and explained the objects of the organization. L. O. Bright, O. G. Reed and H. G. Gilkerson gave story talks.

Presentation of the medals to George White and Homer Edwards was made at the banquet. (See articles elsewhere in this issue.)

Earl A. White was presented with a certificate of honorary recognition from the Antioch High school for his services in the great field of agriculture. Mr. White spoke on the subject, "Some Reflections On The Future of Agriculture." He did not paint gloriously the advantages of agricultural pursuits to the young men present, but rather told them the situation as it exists and warned them that the faint hearted better leave the tractor plows alone for the next few years at agriculture must be fighting its own battle, and the men needed most be men in every sense of the word. Mr. White is an impressive speaker and Antioch farmers are proud to have one of their own young men come home after he has done so well and deliver such an address to its citizens.

INTERESTS ARE HARMONIZED AT MASS MEETING

Legislators Pledge Aid in Flood Hazard Fight

Organized effort to obtain the use of the $175,000 appropriated by the general assembly in 1927 for the building of a dam somewhere in the Fox valley to guard against drought and flood hazards was planned here Saturday night at an open meeting of the Chain of Lakes Association of Lake county. Immediate action to save the appropriation was pledged by Senator Ray Paddock, and Representatives Lee McDonough and Richard J. Lyons.

The meeting held in the assembly room at the high school, was called by President C. K. Anderson of the association, for the purpose of learning what is to be done to make use of the money as the appropriation will revert back to the state unless definite plans for work are formed and the project is under way by July first this year.

Representative From This District Suggests Cut-outs Ruling Be Passed.

Introduction of a bill to prevent the use of cut-outs on motor boats on Illinois lakes was made by Representative Richard J. Lyons, Mundelein, Tuesday in the General Assembly.

Mr. Lyons would make the use of cut-outs during racing an exception.

"Residents of the lake district of Lake county have been disturbed for a long time by owners of motor boats who race around the lakes at any hour of the day or night with the cut-outs wide open," Representative Lyons stated. "This bill will prohibit that, and will give these people some peace."

INCREASE IN SCHOOL FUND IS CONSIDERED

Numerous Organizations Make Plans For Larger Appropriations.

One of the big measures before the General Assembly is the bill providing for an increase in the state school fund. This was the subject for consideration by the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives this afternoon.

Role to Play in Every Day's Cooking Plans

Cocoa has always proved a very important and valued ally in cooking. Aside from the delicacy and richness of flavor it imparts, cocoa contains qualities which at once recommend it strongly to the dietitian and nutrition specialist.

Because of its comparatively small fat content, cocoa is easily digested and is therefore an excellent food for children. It is especially to be recommended for the child who must be encouraged to take milk, for he will usually drink his proper quota if cocoa is added in correct proportion.

For the invalid and persons of delicate digestion cocoa is one of the most nourishing and easily assimilated of products. Because of its concentrated nutriment, it becomes, when milk is added, an almost perfect food.

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

"Let's play store," Sally Rabbit said to some of her Rabbit, Bunny, and Squirrel friends the other afternoon.

"Goodie!" everyone shouted. "That will be fun." That is, everyone shouted "goodie" but Tiny Bunny.

"Don't you want to play, Tiny?" Scampy Squirrel wanted to know.

"Oh, surely!" exclaimed the little Bunny girl. "I want to play but I was trying to see if I could think of something better and I think I have thought of something that would be playing store and yet it would be having a real store."

"What?" everyone asked together.

"Let's really truly sell things," Tiny Bunny explained. "We could have the store in our front lawn and sell fudge, all-day-suckers, sandwiches, cakes and pies and other things."

"Yes, that would be fun," Sally Rabbit agreed, "but where will we get the things to sell?"

"We can make some of them and our mothers will make the rest," the little Bunny girl explained.

"And what will we do with our money?" one of the little Squirrel girls asked. Everybody looked puzzled. No one had thought of that. Finally Tiny spoke up:

"I think it would be nice for us to have a party for some of the boys and girls who live in a children's home and who don't have any mothers or fathers."

"That would be fun, wouldn't it?" Sally Rabbit said. "When will we have our store?"

Nut-lover Squirrel, who is the youngest of all the Squirrel children in Animal Land, wanted to have the store set up right away—in just a minute, but the older animal children told Nut-lover that they would have to have the store the next day so there would be time to make the cakes, pies, and candies. So it was decided to have the sale next day.

Oh, you can't imagine how much baking there was going on in the homes of the animal children that afternoon. Of course the little animal girls couldn't bake much by themselves but they got the baking powder, the flour and other ingredients ready for their mothers, and after the baking was finished the little girls washed the dishes. It helps a great deal when one washes the dishes for one's mother, doesn't it?

Well, anyway, after the baking was finished, all the little Squirrel, Rabbit, and Bunny girls ran to various parts of Animal Land to tell everyone to come to the sale to buy good, homemade, foods. You see, Tiny Bunny had said that it paid to "advertise." Advertise, boys and girls, means to tell people about what you have to sell. You understand, don't you?

Longestly, the afternoon of the sale, it seemed as though all the people in Animal Land were there. Every bit of everything was sold, and the little animal girls could have sold much, much more if they had had it, and oh! they had the best time. They made so much money that their mothers said it was too much to spend on a party for the little boys and girls in the children's home, so and girls in the children's home, so the little animal girls asked their fathers for enough more money, so a radio could be bought for the children's home. Wasn't that nice? And now the little boys and girls in the children's home have a new radio so they can enjoy stories and music all the time.

Isn't that nice, boys and girls?

Twenty-three Years Ago—'member?
Persons Prominent In News Today
Figured In Happenings of 1906

Twenty-three years ago—remember what happened in 1906? Oh, a great many things of course, but some of the happenings are revealed in an Antioch News found while looking through old files. The paper was printed in July, 1906.

One article concerns the marriage of Captain E. L. Bradley of the Allendale farm: "Captain E. L. Bradley and bride who were married Saturday arrived in Lake Villa. They were met at the station by a delegation from Allendale and conveyed across the lake in a large sail boat which was decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion, to the farm where they will make their home. The party was met at the landing by Allendale Military Company 1 and given a salute of 20 guns."

Politicians were getting ready for the August primaries. Perry L. Persons was a candidate for county judge. At the present time he was serving his second term as city treasurer of Waukegan.

Jack of All Trades.
J. C. James, Jr., advertised that he was a licensed embalmer, undertaker, a justice of the peace, a notary public, and a special agent for a life insurance concern.

F. S. Morrell, was a dentist in Lake Villa. Eugene Runyard had a professional card in THE ANTIOCH NEWS, announcing that he was an attorney at law. James H. Reading was a dentist and James A. Thom was a veterinarian.

dandelion in small pieces. Add an equal quantity of tart apple cut in cubes and one teaspoon of celery salt. Mix the salad well with either boiled or oil dressing and serve it on dandelion leaves. Wintercress, sorrel or burdock stems may be used instead of dandelions.

Spring Salad

2 tablespoons gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 cups hot water
4 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon onion juice
1 hard-boiled egg
5 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 small onion, sliced thin
1 canned sweet red pepper minced
1 cup inner tender green leaves of and greens good in the raw state.

Soak the gelatin in cold water until soft. Dissolve it by setting the cup in a pan of hot water. Add all the other ingredients except the egg and mix them well together. Cut the white of the egg in rings and arrange them around the edge of a mold that has been rinsed with cold water. Pour the mixture into the mold, garnish it with the greens selected and serve it with salad dressing.

Burdock Stems on Toast

Peel the small inner stems of burdock and cook carefully in a small amount of water. Drain and add melted fat and paprika to season. Serve on nicely toasted strips of toasted bread.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rhinear, and daughter of Fond du Lac visited over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Rhinear.

Leo Middendorf, Grayslake, spent one day in Antioch taking charge of the Lindike barber shop while Mr. Radtke was out of town.

Drought Was Serious

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Watson had as their guests Mrs. Will Wallace and daughter from Templeton, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Slack, Chicago, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Williams.

Antioch and vicinity were visited by a drought which was becoming a serious matter. There had been only one good rain in weeks and weeks.

Fire destroyed a stack of straw on the Louis Grabel farm, one mile south of Wadsworth.

An ad read: D. T. Barhyte will hereafter be the sexton of the Antioch Hillside cemetery and will in the future dig all graves for burial. All those wishing such work done will please apply to him. And we suppose hundreds were wishing the work done.

ILL THREE YEARS; FINDS HEALTH IN FAMOUS KONJOLA

Friend Who Knew Of Lady's Suffering Sent Her Medicine—Happy Experience Is Related.

MISS KATHRYN WHEELER

"It may seem strange that a friend would send another medicine with the requests that she take it. But that is just what a friend of mine did," so said Miss Kathryn Wheeler, 1301 North Glendale avenue, Peoria.

"For three years I suffered intensely from indigestion. I lost in weight until I weighed only one hundred pounds. I could not sleep, and I was nervous and irritable."

"Konjola was the very medicine I needed. In three weeks my nerves were steady. My appetite returned and I began to pick up in weight. I feel wonderful now. No indigestion, no constipation—just splendid health. What a debt I owe the friend who was fortunate enough to know about Konjola, and thoughtful enough to send it to me. I make this statement with the hope that it may lead others who suffer as I did to give this medicine a chance to make them well."

Konjola is sold in Antioch at S. H. Reeves' drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

RED CROSS CHAPTERS STRENGTHEN FORCES FOR DISASTER RELIEF

Launch National Campaign to Perfect Preparedness Plans in Every Community.

A nation-wide campaign to strengthen plans for preparedness against disaster and for emergency relief has been launched by the American Red Cross through its Chapters. The program is intended to perfect disaster preparedness committees in the ten thousand communities reached by Red Cross Chapters and their branches.

When carried out, through committees of men and women in the communities, it will insure that should a disaster come, an organization for emergency relief, including every modern method science has perfected—such as the radio, the airplane, the motor car and watercraft—can be mobilized to bring assistance, with the promptitude applied by the Red Cross in recent major disasters, such as the West Indies hurricanes and the Mississippi Valley flood.

These enlarged and strengthened plans for disaster relief are set forth in the revised Red Cross manual, "When Disaster Strikes," which has been placed in the hands of every Red Cross chairman throughout the nation. The plan to encourage adoption of these added disaster preparedness methods was begun at this time because Red Cross records—covering 48 years of disaster relief—show that the period of the greatest number of disasters, large and small, ranges from the early Spring through the early Fall.

The Record of 48 Years

A historical summary of Red Cross disaster relief since 1882, shows that the society was active in giving relief in 938 domestic disasters and its expenditures in these relief operations were $49,594,000. The three groups of calamities appearing most frequently were: cyclones, tornadoes, hurricanes and other storms, 231; fires, 131; floods, 126.

During this period, the Red Cross also has given assistance to distressed peoples of other countries in 153 disasters. Total expenditures for relief at home and throughout the world, in 48 years, amount to $77,354,000.

In the four most recent major disasters, among the greatest which have ever visited the American continent, Red Cross expenditures for relief totaled $29,188,908. Only in the event of large disasters such as the Florida hurricane of 1926, the Mississippi Valley flood of 1927, the New England flood of the same fall, and the West Indies hurricane of 1928, does the Red Cross seek contributions from the general public for relief work; and frequently these are not ample, as in the four disasters listed, the Red Cross donated $1,338,201 from its own treasury to aid in the work. In the event of smaller disasters, the cost of the relief is met largely from Red Cross resources.

No Community Immune

No community is immune to great disasters of one type or another, the manual shows. One preparedness measure that can be adopted is a survey of the surrounding country, with the assistance of engineers and other experts to determine the type of disaster to which the section is subject. Hazards resulting from the presence of rivers and lakes, subject to overflow, of mines, molten factories, and other industries where dangers from explosion and fires may exist, are singled out for consideration.

Extension of existing disaster organizations in communities, and organization of men and women, trained in public health and community service, will result in the saving of lives and the prevention of extensive suffering, through privation, epidemic and other misfortune, should emergency arise through disaster. These organizations, outlined in the manual, are similar to those now existing in most Red Cross Chapters, only strengthened in some particulars. They contemplate disaster preparedness and relief committees, under which function sub-committees on food, clothing, shelter, medical aid, registration of disaster sufferers and information service, transportation and communication and finance.

Co-ordination of all of the societies, organized groups and institutions in the locality is urged, so that all effort for emergency relief will be directed without conflict. Trained in advance, these committees can swing into action, and provide an orderly and systematic relief organization.

The following are expenditures made by the American National Red Cross for relief in the four most recent major disasters:

|--------------------------------|-----------------|
| Florida hurricane, 1926 | $4,477,170.07 |
| Mississippi Valley flood, 1927 | 17,498,002.16 |
| New England flood, 1927 | 1,299,773.93 |
| West Indies hurricane, 1928 | 6,913,062.47 |
| | $29,188,908.63 |

WILD FLOWERS

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

It was the last of May and along the railroad right of way as I rushed through the prairie, I could see the wild flowers blooming. Civilization has pushed them back to more remote and undisturbed regions or has utterly destroyed them, excepting in these strips of prairie land which the avocational play share has as yet left untouched.

There were a few that they must be left undisturbed. More and more these natural gardens along railroad tracks are being put into cultivation. Wheat and oats and corn are growing in the rich soil and more of the wild flowers are disappearing.

There are wild strawberries in the grass. I can see the white blossoms as we ride by, and fast as we roll along I can see occasionally the glint of the scarlet berries ripening in the sun. I have eaten strawberries at Kenilworth where they grow as big as crab apples, and I have tasted the prize varieties from a dozen sections of the country. There are none so sweet and satisfying as those we used to pick out of the prairie grass as we sought them on our lands and knees on the way from school.

There are great gardens of phlox—Sweet Williams we used to call the flower. I can still see on the teacher's desk in the old district school house the bunches we used to gather and present to her to show our affection or to win her favor. Along the hedge rows wild blackberries are blossoming, white as snow. We gathered the luscious berries in the summer years ago and mother made them into jam. I can taste it yet.

There are patches of purple spiderwort, and violets and tall, graceful shooting stars rising on their single slender stem. I wonder if down in the marshy places buttercups and lady's slippers are still growing. It was a rare occasion when we found a lady's-slipper blooming. We did not know then as I know now that when we picked the flower we wounded the plant to death. I am sure I should have left it untouched much as I wanted to hold the delicate blossom in my hand, had I not been ignorant of the result of my plundering.

There are roses on the uplands—fragrant, delicate, not to be compared with any cultivated rose which floral gardeners have developed. Give me the wild rose before any of the rest of them. Some of the flowers I have almost forgotten so long ago. It is since I have wandered among them. The sight of them brings back almost forgotten memories, however—names of which I have not thought for years, experiences which were very recent, associations which were very close in those days. I am a very close in those days. I am a very close in those days. I am a very close in those days.

Workman's Lucky Hunch

A workman's hunch probably averted a tragedy at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. A house that had been built about 60 years ago was being wrecked. The workman found a pin hole between the walls and was in the act of hurrying it along the rest of the debris when he had his hunch to examine the hole. It was marked "nitroglycerin." The bottle was dumped into a river.

The Age of Retirement

Exert your talents and distinguish yourself, and don't think of retiring from the world until the world will be sorry that you retire. Methuselah of Forest

The General Sherman big tree is the Sequoia National forest, California, estimated to be at least 4,000 years old, is still producing an annual crop of cones from which fall millions of fertile seeds. There are nurseries in the park that contain many young trees, the progeny of this oldest and largest living thing. The Methuselah of the forest perpetuates its kind today as it did when Cheops built the Great Pyramid in Egypt.

Obeys Life's Rules

I do not bring many serious bulletins against life; I have found it rather kindly master. If I violate its rules, it is harsh with me, but when I obey them it is generous. FORMER BUICK DEALER IS NOW AIDE TO HOOVER

Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri is new Secretary of Agriculture

President Hoover's recent appointment of former Gov. Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri as Secretary of Agriculture, brings for the first time a man from the automobile industry to the cabinet of the nation's chief executive. Secretary Hyde has long been a Buick dealer at Trenton, Mo.

The appointee has established a remarkable record both in political circles and as a business man. Coming, as he does, from the very heart of the farm belt, Secretary Hyde, through his long association with problems confronting tillers of the soil, is especially qualified to meet the responsibilities connected with this highly important cabinet post.

Being the owner of three large farms in Missouri, Mr. Hyde has a first hand knowledge of the farm problem. The work confronting the new secretary will be largely of an administrative nature, and his automobile business experience will be of inestimable value in dealing with the ramifications of the farm question, because it, too, is essentially a business problem.

As a lawyer he administered to the farmer's legal needs; as a merchant of Buick cars his dealings with them brought him into even closer touch with their financial and domestic problems; as governor of Missouri he became the champion of their cause—and now as a member of President Hoover's cabinet he is to become instrumental in solving one of the most difficult situations confronting the American nation.

Secretary Hyde is an intensely active man. When he practiced law he was eminently successful. Law has always been his central activity, but as time went by he became increasingly interested in the automotive world as a dealer in Buick Motor cars. He has made a remarkable success of his automobile business, which he retained during his tenure of office as governor and in which he still has an interest.

A Male a-la-Kangaroo Fish

Not unlike the kangaroo, there is a fish, the male of which has a pouch in which he carries the young and cares for them until they are able to care for themselves. It is the pipe fish. Its body is long and slim and is from eighteen inches to three feet in length. It is found in the warmer seas.

It takes about five hundred nuts to hold an automobile together, but it only takes one to spread it all over the landscape.

Jimmy Chase, Central Amateur Athletic Union 112 pound champion, has been charged with professionalism and may be banned from the National A. A. U. tournament next week. Chase has often fought at the Antioch Palace.

Within an hour after Chase was entered in the boxing tournament, the Metropolitan A. A. U. of New York protested, advising tournament officials it would forward proof he was a professional. Chase denies the charge.

Registration made in the copyright office of the United States does not insure protection in European countries because the United States is not a member of the International Copyright Union. College on Wheels

Vermont has joined the list of states which try to educate their farmers by means of a "college on wheels." The state department of agriculture, the University of Vermont and the railroads have sponsored the operation of a special train, to teach the people, particularly the farmers, the value of scientific application in the dairy industry.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real? was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 14.

The Golden Text was, "The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him" (James 5:15).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who keepeth all thine iniquities: who healeth all thy diseases: Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies" (Psalms 103:2-4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If sickness is real, it belongs to immortality; if true, it is a part of Truth. . . . But if sickness and sin are illusions, the awakening from this mortal dream, or illusion, will bring us into health, holiness, and immortality" (p. 239).

Why the Red Sea Is Red

Fifteen miles south of Maricopa, Calif., the water in a small lake is said to have changed in color from a clear crystal to blood red. In ages past this phenomenon would have been considered a terrible omen. Scientists explain the reddening of the water as caused by a minute plant-like growth of the algae family known as diatoms. The same growth is responsible for the color of the Red Sea, the cause of so much superstition in Biblical times.

Life's Little Ironies

When Robert Burns lay on his deathbed in Dumfries he is said to have declared to his wife: "I will be better known a hundred years from now, than I am today." More prophetic words were never uttered. The poet who died tormented with a debt of $50 hanging over him that he was unable to meet is known everywhere today, while the sale of one copy of an early edition of his poems brings enough money to have kept Burns in affluence all his life.

Lose Majesty

In Yugo-Slavia one must be careful of his speech or he is likely to find himself behind bars with the information that he is guilty of lese majeste. A woman of Sarajevo was sentenced to one year in prison for making "insulting remarks" about the king's parents. A man at Novi Sad got a sentence of three years for "insulting remarks" about King Alexander himself.

Hard to Eradicate

It is hard to eradicate latent suggestions of witchcraft. When you sneeze, almost any friend is liable to say "Gesundheit!" to scare away the pneumonia germs or rap three times on a wood in order "to frighten the devil."

WINCH—A TRUE FRIEND

With the death last week of W. O. Winch, who made his home in Chicago and at Channel Lake, this community lost a true friend—a man whose place will be difficult to fill.

Mr. Winch for the last nine years spent his summers at Channel Lake, and for several years the Channel Lake dance pavilion which he owned and operated, has been one of the most popular amusement halls in the middle-west. Mr. Winch promoted clean, wholesome amusement and through his dance pavilion attracted thousands of university men and women to the lakes region each summer. On the shore of Channel Lake in 1920 he built a large and attractive building for dancing and various other amusements. Four years later he found that he could no longer accommodate his public, and he proceeded to lay new plans. The following summer, Channel Lake Pavilion had become a corporation. A new building, three times the size of the former one was ready in a neighboring field, a side road had been made leading over to the building and a capacious parking place prepared for the public.

For the past five years Mr. Winch has acted as chief stockholder and president of this corporation. His creative ideas and organizing ability are credited by all the stockholders for the success of this enterprise and his fondness for nature and watching other people's enjoyment made these last five years, perhaps the happiest in his life. Not only were Mr. Winch's dance hall and club houses favorites, but he himself was unusually well-liked. He was a good business man—cautious and honest. Prior to his managing the resort business, Mr. Winch was superintendent of a large concern which manufactured women's hats.

Mr. Winch died as a result of heart trouble. His widow, Mrs. Emma Winch, two daughters, Mrs. Edna Simmons and Mrs. Lillian Johnson, and a son, Homer, are left. The son lives at Channel Lake and has assisted his father with the resort business.

BECOMING WORLD MINDED

Whether we realize it or not there can be little doubt that the American people have become world minded during the past few years. Before the World War comparatively little foreign news was carried in the American press, especially that part of it which is published a few hundred miles from the Atlantic coast. But the great world struggle changed this. After the armistice we woke up the next morning to find ourselves a world power. The center of the financial affairs of old mother earth seemed to have shifted overnight from London to New York.

Since then a great many things have happened to increase this world mindedness. The League of Nations and the World Court fight accentuated this. Now the newspapers devote columns every day to the news from Europe. Then again our foreign trade, especially that with Latin-America, has increased by leaps and bounds during the past decade and we find that we are gradually but steadily ousting the leading European nations from the trade dominance of South America.

The World War left us with a lot of ships on hand and such a costly experience in the matter of shipping that we decided that hereafter we should maintain a merchant marine. This determination has grown rather than receded and the Jones shipping bill and the action of the Shipping Board in turning over merchant ships to private owners have resulted. With a merchant marine and a world trade it is but natural that we need that we must have an adequate navy to protect us, until such time comes that there can be real disarmament. Hence the passage of the cruiser bill of a few weeks ago. Certainly the United States merchant marine is a vital necessity to our continued progress, and most Americans believe it should be a privately owned and operated merchant marine with the government co-operating in every logical way to assure its existence.

Now we have the merchant marine and it naturally follows that the merchant marine must have cargoes to carry if it is to be a success. The success of our venture is therefore in part at least up to the American shipper. He should insist wherever possible that his goods be carried across the sea in American bottoms. This is not only patriotism, it is good business, because a good merchant marine flying the Stars and Stripes is necessary if we are to continue our world trade properly.

With our new foreign trade and our foreign investments we have started out on uncharted seas. Nobody knows just where we are going. But one thing is certain. If we are to take care of American interests everywhere we must maintain adequate American defense is the United States navy. An adequate defense and a foreign policy which will keep us free from the entanglements of European politics are the best safeguards for the future so far as American international relations are concerned. We do not seek war but peace. War is not necessary to our national development and we would avoid it wherever possible. And the best way to avoid it is to be able to take care of ourselves in time of possible crisis.

Suspenders and gashaws have come back. Next thing in order will be the old reliable moustache cup.

If Mr. Hoover is really having a lot of trouble building his cabinet, he can find plenty of store box politicians who can fix up one in fifteen minutes.

Boston is to have Sunday baseball this summer which would seem to indicate that the Puritans came over to Massachusetts in vain.

It is said that Jascha Heifetz has earned nearly two million dollars in America since 1917 just by playing the violin. That's a lot of money to scrape up in 12 years.

One company of gangsters in Chicago wiped out seven other gangsters, showing they are more efficient than the police in cleaning up the town.

Two French newspapermen fought a duel the other day because one claimed that the other gave him an exaggerated news report. They must take their journalism seriously over there.

Europe is experiencing the coldest February on record. Here's a chance for some of our internationalists to help by shipping a lot of their hot air over there.

The baseball teams are getting ready to go south which indicates that spring is just around the corner.

Up to this time the federalists seem to have the best of the war in Mexico because they control all the press agents.

President Hoover orders publicity for all cases of income tax refund or credit where the amount is more than $20,000. Well, we don't object. Whenever we get a refund of twenty-thousand or more we are going to advertise it ourselves all over the neighborhood.

Of course you do have to change an automobile tire occasionally but think of the good old days when you had to bother with old Dobbin's fly nets.

Talking pictures are all right but we are not so sure about television. For instance, if you could actually see some of those stories that erring husbands spin over the telephone about being detained on account of business they would look pretty bad.

The Puzzle (Page Sam Loyd)

Old Eagle Eye Says--

L. H. Knodell, 3150 Lake Park avenue, Chicago, writes that through a friend, W. J. Saythe, who has a summer home in the neighborhood of Antioch, he had received a copy of the big town newspaper, THE ANTIOCH NEWS, and he is keenly interested in the move to boost Lake county developments. Thousands of Chicagoans are as interested as Mr. Knodell, and thousands of others will become just as interested after they are told of what the Chain of Lakes region has to offer.

And now we suppose Constables Horan and Anderson are contented since they can boast shining stars. We haven't yet seen a gun pulled on anyone. But then—Antioch is such a law abiding community!

When you see hotels and resort places "fix" up with a little paint, planting flowers and shrubs, and cleaning up in general, doesn't every bone in you cry out to go swimming, boating, and camping? Call of the season, we guess.

Children speak their little "piece" about if all the world were an apple pie. All we have to say is, that if all the world were an apple pie a great many more women would be hunting for methods to reduce.

Throwing Balls At the Barn

THE famous Christy Mathewson as a boy chalked a square on a barn and threw balls at it all day long. This patient practice helped make him the best baseball pitcher of his day, for it taught him accuracy.

Success in any kind of life depends on accuracy, or "control," as they call it in baseball. "Wild pitches," careless investments, foolish expenditures can be avoided.

The habit of doing business with this bank, making deposits regularly, taking advantage of our experience and connections, develops "control" which means joyful success.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS
Antioch, Illinois.

Dear Sirs:
Enclosed you will find money for my subscription. My reason for not renewing sooner is because we have been practically cut off from Antioch for so long—as have all the many people who have to depend on the Channel Lake road.

The only reference made to such matters in several weeks was a statement made a short time ago: "Mr. Dunn reports all roads out of Antioch in good condition. At the time of this shameful statement the above mentioned road was worse than any road I have ever seen in this country, France, or England, so naturally all of us isolated people were well disgusted.

Nobody advocates hoisting more than the writer, but when a village as big as Antioch cuts itself off so much business as in the past few months by absolute neglect of its only outlet to a thickly populated territory, then it is certainly time for the newspaper and the business men to stir up real action instead of sitting back and allowing this condition to become worse year after year.

I hope you will do something for the many people who have waited so long for Antioch to change this condition. I am confident such action will be a great boost to your newspaper.

Yours sincerely,
Channel Lake Resident.

Tuberculosis is not an inherited disease. A child may inherit a weak constitution and so be more likely to get the disease because he is not strong enough to resist its attacks, but tuberculosis itself is not handed down from parent to child.

Condition is Weakened

A child, especially if it is a persistent and the person is in a rundown condition, is often the beginning of tuberculosis. Measles and whooping cough in children are likely to predispose to it; typhoid fever leaves those who have had it especially susceptible to tuberculosis. Scarlet fever, influenza, pneumonia, and any other sickness which leaves the body in a bad condition and lowers its resistance increases the susceptibility to tuberculosis, as do those conditions of present-day life which increase the strain and stress on the human body.

HOLE IN POCKET COSTS HIM JOB

Gloster, Ohio, April 18—A hole in the pocket of Mayor Hugh Gormley cost that individual his job.

Mayor Gormley, 60-year-old veteran of county politics and mayor of this city 29 years, lost $171.86, money paid to him in fines and license fees for February. He said the money was lost through a hole in his pocket. Called before the city council to make his report and turn over the funds, Mayor Gormley explained the situation. The council demanded that Gormley pay back the money by installments. And Gus Gaskella, council president, is mayor following Gormley's suspension.

Lake County Doctors Discuss Tuberculosis In Series of Stories

(Following is one of a series of articles on tuberculosis prepared by Lake county physicians. The articles are published under the direction of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association and the Lake County Medical Society.—Editor's Note.)

Civilization has conferred some marvelous benefits upon the human race. It has also developed some curses to afflict mankind.

Among the latter is a disease that has developed purely as a result of the refinement of living which have accompanied the spread of civilization to the ends of the earth—tuberculosis.

African tribes, the American Indians, the Esquimaux, the Arabs of the desert, the early peoples of Europe, living in their natural and primitive state, did not have tuberculosis. They developed the disease only after they had given up their out-door life and adopted the indoor life and manner of living that accompanied the progress of civilization. Wherever tuberculosis has developed, history shows us that the people had been freed from the rigid conditions of existence which earlier generations had to combat and that they had gradually assumed more comfortable and easier methods of living or had taken up occupations which kept them in a good portion of the time indoors.

All Classes Included

No race nor age nor condition of life has been immune. Evidence of scrofula (tuberculosis of the glands of the neck) and of tuberculosis of the bones has been found in the mummies of the ancient Egyptians; Greek and Roman history make frequent reference to the diseases; in our own country, we have ample proof of its ravages among the Indians and of the peculiar susceptibility of negroes to the disease. Infants succumb to it and contrary to general belief there are many deaths from it in old age, while 28 per cent of all deaths from tuberculosis in Illinois occur between the ages of 20 and 30 years, according to a statement made by the State Department of Health. It attacks the well-to-do in their over-heated and luxurious homes, the sons of industry in the manufacturing districts, and the children of poverty in the tenement localities.

Tuberculosis is caused by a micro-scopic plant. Most plants must have air and sun in order to thrive and grow but the tuberculosis plant does not live long out of doors or is exposed to air or sunlight. This is why persons living a great deal out of doors do not have tuberculosis and why one of the greatest safeguards against it is to keep the house well ventilated and flooded with sunlight.

Local Man Purchases Purebred Percheron Mare Draft Horse

Continued activity and rising prices in the purebred draft horse market this year indicate that farmer interest in good horses is greater than for some time. Purchases of the big horses in Lake county include the recent transfer of a mare secured by R. B. Miller, Antioch, from Guy C. Philz, Correctionville, Iowa.

The mare is a purebred Percheron, the breed to which two-thirds of the registered draft horses of the United States belong. She is registered with the Percheron Society of America as "Mabb 101961. Secretary Ellis McFarland reports that the Percheron organization received more than 2,000 inquiries last year from persons who want to secure stallions and mares.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Why Animals Become Independent Early

The reason why humans become independent so much more slowly than animals is because animals are guided by instinct, while humans depend on their ability to learn. The animal is born with the instinct to use its facilities, while the development of the human intelligence is a slower process. (© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

We Must Have Cares

Cares, expressions of one sort or another, are necessary to the life of the affections as leaves are to the life of a tree. If they are wholly restrained love will die at the roots. Hawthorne.

LAKE ASSOCIATION PLANS TO SAVE APPROPRIATION

ation in the matter and stated that it would be put up to Attorney General Carlstrom this week.

Interests Are Harmonized

All interests in the great lake chain down to the dam at McHenry are identical. It was pointed out at the meeting, which was one of perfect harmony. The original appropriation bill provided for a dam to be built at or near Nippersuck, and was for the purpose of maintaining water levels above that point, but residents of the upper lakes region are willing that the dam be placed farther down the Fox river, or even at the site of the present McHenry dam, if that will get the results they deem imperative. There was some discussion regarding the exact location of the proposed dam as provided for in the appropriation bill, but no one was able to give an opinion as to whether, under the law, the dam could be constructed at the present site of the McHenry dam. Quoted verbatim, the appropriation bill reads as follows: "For construction of dam and lock in Fox river at or near where river flows from Nippersuck lake, $175,000."

The Emmerson administration, pledged to economy, could not be charged with this appropriation, in case it was continued for another biennium. It was pointed out, as the original appropriation was made under the Small regime, having been introduced by the late Representative William F. Welas.

Dredging of parts of Fox river and also of all connecting channels in the lake chain, was recommended to prevent overflow and to afford relief at flood times.

Mayor Frett, McHenry, who says he has kept close tabs on the situation for many years, brought information of a highly enlightening nature to the meeting. According to Mayor Frett, the water level in the Fox river at McHenry at the present time is 22 inches above normal, and that there is no way to get rid of the over-supply with an old fashioned dam like that at McHenry. With a new dam at McHenry, and dykes in two places along the Fox river, the upper lakes people would never have reason to complain of water levels, unless an act of Providence makes conditions beyond control, the McHenry mayor claims.

Problem for Engineers.

A committee of five members who are to work with the eighth district assemblymen and also with state engineers in arriving at a satisfactory solution of the whole matter, was appointed by President Anderson as follows: E. M. Runyard, James DePratt, Arthur J. Amundsen, Ray Pengonzer and Peter Frett. The appointment of this committee and the enlisting of the aid of the district assemblymen is the wisest move that has been made as yet toward the solution of the problem that has had the entire region guessing for the last two years. If plans outlined at the meeting are followed, early action on a project that means the beginning of great development in the entire region seems eminent.

McHenry Taken Into Fold.

Mayor Peter Frett of McHenry and M. J. Kent, prominent realtor of that city were made directors to represent the down river territory in the Chain of Lakes association of Lake county, at the directors' meeting that preceded the mass meeting called for eight o'clock.

Resolutions of condolence for the late W. O. Winch, Channel lake director, were ordered spread upon the minutes of the association.

The annual meeting of the association will be at the call of the President some time in May, at which time a change of name for the association will be in order.

Mrs. Werden Tells of Lotus.

Promptly at eight o'clock the directors' meeting was turned into an open meeting.

Among the speakers was Mrs. L. B. Werden, who told of the famous lotus beds of Grass Lake. Lotus is a hobby with Mrs. Werden, and many times she has opportunity of telling thousands the wonders of the region over Chicago radio stations. The Grass Lake lotus was discovered and identified as Niludn lotus in 1870, according to Mrs. Werden, and it is not the Egyptian variety as many suppose. The year 1923 was the greatest year for lotus, but the next year the great bud were all but exterminated by the floods. Mrs. Werden seeks to have preserved the famous Grass Lake lotus as one of the greatest attractions in the middle west. Upon motion that a committee be appointed for this purpose, President Anderson, named Mrs. Werden as chairman and asked her to select two other members to assist.

Motors to Be Muffled.

The meeting went on record as favoring the passage of a law preventing motor boats using cutouts except in racing events. The motor boats have been one of the greatest nuisances on the lakes for many years. The representatives promised they would investigate.

J. C. James, former Fox River Conservancy district trustee, outlined the plans for reorganizing the district, by defeating the project that has been petitioned for and presenting a new petition to include all territory that should be included in a new district.

J. R. Irwin, Elgin, executive secretary of the Fox River Valley Federation, spoke in behalf of the downstream people in the vicinity of Aurora and Elgin, urging the local association to include in their plans a means of regulating the flow of waters in the Fox.

Secretary A. M. Krahl of the Antioch Business club, told of the progress made in the chain of lakes greatest advertising program that was recently inaugurated to exploit the middle-west's greatest recreational region.

Other speakers were: A. H. Franzen, James DePratt, and E. H. White, Fox Lake; and E. H. Howes, Waukegan.

In closing, President Anderson urged early and definite action on the part of all committees.

Paper That Won't Burn

A paper that does not burn has been discovered. The German inventor, Mr. Franz Franck, gave a demonstration recently. He took a sheet of ordinary newspaper, crumpled it into a ball and wrapped this highly combustible object in a sheet of his fireproof paper. Thus protected, he held it for a few minutes in the flame of a laboratory blast lamp hot enough to melt a glass window pane. Not only did the fireproof wrapping survive, but the ordinary paper inside was not even scorched.

TOUGH Sledding

That's what it's been for automobiles all Winter long. Zero days—slushy days—slippery days—mud, grit, and dirt—downright hard on a car.

On top of that, no one likes to bother with repairs during cold weather. Result—a car gets "run-down," and just about this time of year it should have a good, careful checking over with a view to seeing what repairs are needed.

Probably there are several things that ought to be done to your car to put it in A-No. 1 shape for the spring and summer. We'd like an opportunity to check it over. That costs you nothing. And from us you'll get an honest report, and honest, expert workmanship.
